for University students

An 'India-Exposure' contact program for University students

India is an emerging global powerhouse with long term growth plans in all sectors. The Indian real estate industry has witnessed a tsunami of change ably supported by new governmental policies and frameworks like the Real Estate Regulation and Development Act (RERA).

Any serious study of real estate and its allied fields then, is incomplete without an 'on-ground' exposure to the intricacies and the magnitude of the developments underway.

The REMI Indian Domestic Study Tour is a wonderful opportunity for students from India and abroad to travel across selected cities, witness the technologies and talent in the industry, network and observe the changes being implemented in the Indian Real Estate Landscape.

This tour will widen your horizons and expose you to the potential that exists, the accomplishments thus far and the growth that is anticipated in this dynamic industry.
